AKO UK is a British company that stocks and sells pneumatic Pinch Valves, Pressure Relief Valves, Hand Operated Pinch Valves and Aeration products. We also distribute various other valves of which information is provided on our web site. The advent of a wider product range gives AKO UK Ltd the opportunity to offer British industry more solutions to the controlled movement of bulk materials and liquids. We promise our customers reliable Pinch Valves and products at competitive prices, with the best service and support possible. AKO UK Ltd bought out Paladon PV in February 2000 due to its excellent reputation with over 20 years of selling the Pinch Valve.

We hold good stocks of the Pinch Valve, other products and spares and when necessary can get two-day deliveries from Germany.

We continue to service our existing customers while slowly introducing a range of associated products.

Our customers are based all over the UK and include various sized companies from small businesses to large 'blue chip' organisations.

We sell competitively priced, reliable products and offer a fast, dependable delivery service along with full sales and after-sales support. We always have and always will continue to be focused on customer service. AKO UK Ltd is proud to be small enough to care and big enough to compete.
